The founder of the Democratic party planted it firmly upon this rock—"Equal opportunities for all; special privileges for none." Samuel Tilden said the party is only formidable when it has the courage to be democratic. Undemocratic devises to deprive people of their voting privileges is not only unmanly in the leaders who conceive them, but a reproach and blot upon our civilization.

The candidates are all smiling as they opportune the dear voter. This paper congratulates them on the splendid spirit existing between all the candidates. The absence of any mud-throwing is to be commended and it is to be hoped that the people will have a campaign for the offices, devoid of all dirt. If so there can be no bad taste left in the mouths of the vanished and the people will vote on the merits of the candidates and not on personalities.

Staples—Nash

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at Alberta, Va., Saturday, April 23rd, when Miss Dorothy Marie Staples, daughter of Mr. and Mrs J. E. Staples, and granddaughter of Mr and Mrs. C. W. Thomas, became the bride of Mr. Thomas B. Nash, of Skeleton, Va.

The bride was prettily attired attired in gray and blue and carried lillies-of-the-Valley and ferns.

"A Warning"

Several hogs in the county have recently died from cholera and at present there are many others sick with the same disease.

To prevent any further spread of the cholera with our farmer's hogs I have called on the State Veteraeain to assist me in vaccinating as far as possible within the next few days.

My advice to you is to vaccinate, and those of you wishing this to be done will please get in touch with me at once in order that I may advise you the date to be at home and have your hogs up.

The only expense to the farmer will be the cost of the vaccine.

NOTICE

To the Voters of Buckingham and Appomattox Counties.

At the solicitation of my friends and those of of Dr. Tucker, he having withdrawn on account of sickness, I hereby announce myself a candidate for election to House of Delegates from Buckingham and Appomattox, subject to the coming Democratic Primary. It has always been my pleasure to serve the people's interests and I have done all I could at all times for the progressive government, believing it our duty to safe-guard every agricultural interest as a basic proposition. If elected, I pledge you my energetic efforts to better if possible the present conditions. Your support will be very highly appreciated.

Yours very truly,
D. M. Gannaway,

ROBS NAVIGATION OF ITS TERRORS

Formula Makes Sun Observations Unnecessary.

Washington.—Many stirring tales have been suggested by the terrors which beset shipwrecked seamen, unable to determine their position.

Their plight has usually been due to inability to observe the sun at noon, solar time. Now, however, naval authorities in all parts of the world are showing great interest in a formula worked out by Rev. Alan S. Hawkesworth of the Protestant Episcopal church, who served as a mathematician in the navy's bureau of ordnance during the World war.

"By sextant observation on the two stars forming the pointer of the Great Boar, or the uprights of the Southern Cross," he explains, "a navigator can tell his exact position at any moment during the night. And castaway sailors with no sextant or other instrument can approximately but definitely tell their position within ten or fifteen miles, thus avoiding the horrors of aimless drifting.

"In the northern hemisphere, for instance, imagine a huge clock face around the Pole star, with twelve above and six below—in the usual fashion. Take as our hour hand upon this imaginary clock face the stars called the 'pointers' and the Great Bear or Dipper.

"Read the hour indicated thereby, and add to it the number of months, and fractions of the month, elapsed since January 1. Double this sum, and subtract it from 25¼ or 23¾, or 4¼, the test for which of these three constants we must use being that the remainder must be positive, yet less than 24. The result will be the true solar time—reckoned from midnight—with 12 to 24 for p. m. time."

Secret of Towers Is Revealed by Britain

London.—Nine years after the armistice the British admiralty has just now revealed for the first time the secret of the famous floating "mystery towers," two of which were built during the war for use off the Straits of Dover.

These towers, 80 feet high and costing $6,000,000 each, it is now stated, were intended to be the forerunners of a whole series of towers which were to be towed out to sea and strung in a line across the Dover straits. Each tower was to be heavily fortified, with powerful searchlights mounted on top. They were to be linked together at distances of a few hundred yards and between the towers was to be strung a curtain of massive steel netting reaching from a few inches below the level of the surface of the water to the bottom of the channel.

In this way the admiralty expected to put an effective end to the submarine menace in the channel. The end of the war came, however, before the towers could be put into use. One was sold and broken up for salvage. The other is now anchored off Spithead, where it has replaced the famous Nab light ship, off the eastern end of the Isle of Wight.

Seeks Prehistoric Man in Danube Salt Mines

Vienna, Austria.—Dr. William Freerts Bade of Berkeley, Calif., is trying to wrest from the ancient salt mines of Hallstadt the story of the lively commerce which he believes was once carried on between early inhabitants of the Danube basin and peoples of Asia Minor.

His research is being conducted at the request of the prehistoric section of the Vienna Natural History museum. He is assisted by Prof. Adolph Mahr of Vienna. Later, Doctor Mahr will accompany Doctor Bade to Palestine for archeological research.

New Goodyear Value

For Ford and Chevrolet Owners

Goodyear has developed a Balloon Tire tread which matches the Goodyear Balloon carcass of Supertwist Cord.

It is the famous Goodyear All-Weather Tread scientifically redesigned for Balloon Tire use.

The sharp-edged, diamond-shaped blocks are placed in a semi-flat design. These blocks grip the road and retain their usefulness longer than any tread heretofore offered.

Long, slow, even tread wear is assured. "Cupping" and uneven wear, so common to many Balloon Tires, are practically eliminated.

Come in and see this new Goodyear Balloon Tire.

There will be preaching at New Hope Baptist Church next Sunday at 11 o'clock. Every member is urged to be present to honor the memory of mother and to worship the God of our devoted, christian mothers. A welcome to all who can come with us.
S. B. TUCKER

Early Tuesday morning the splendid home and household effects of Mr. W. J. Covington were consumed by fire. The home was located on his farm at the mill. Loss will probably reach $6,000 with $2500 insurance. Much sympathy is expressed for Mr. Covington.

News was received here this morning of the death of Elias B. Thompson at the Naval hospital at Hampton, Va. Deceased was not quite 18 years of age and was a fine young man and had a host of friends here, where he attended school. His father, Mr. E. B. Thompson, who resides near here is just recovering from an attack of pneumonia. The naval hospital took charge of the remains and interment will be in Norfolk.

Everybody in Appomattox County is requested to contribute to the Mississippi Flood Relief Fund. The Local Red Cross Chapter has been asked to raise about $1,000 for immediate relief. The first quota asked for here was $475 and the urgent need prompted the second request. Mesdames Arthur Irby and S. W. Sears, Appomattox, Va., have been appointed a committee to receive these funds. The preachers of the county are serving on this cammittee and the churches, so far, have done splendid work. Any contribution, large or small will be appreciated. Let us help these neighbors of ours, who are in dire distress. Appomattox never fails to do her part.

COMING "MUTT AND JEFF"

Mutt and Jeff (in person) and their big company of funmakers 201-2 people will visit Appomattox, on Saturday, May 7, for one night under their big waterproof tent theatre, equipped with special scenery, Electrical effects and Gorgeous Costumes, presenting a 3 act musical comedy written by Bud Fisher himself.

Two hours of good, clean, wholesome comedy.

Popular prices will prevail, 25 and 50c.

Curtain rises at 8:15.

Remember this is not a moving picture.

Better Homes Week Observed Here

The attractive little Home Economics Cottage here was opened this week for inspection and the ladies of the Home Economics Class have helped Mrs. A. G. Bloxton and Miss Eula May Burke, the committee to hold a floating reception at the cottage for the first part of the week. The home will be opened for inspection every afternoon for the rest of the week from 2:30 to 6:30 and at night at 7:30. A committee will be there to welcome visitors and all citizens are urged to visit the cottage before the end of the week. Every guest is invited to register in the attractive register.

Teachers Institute

Friday evening the County Teachers Institute held its literary contest among the schools of the county in the auditorium here. Prof Moore, Mrs. J. O. Carson, and Mrs. W. W. Pippen were the judges, and awarded honors as follows:

Whole school points, Appomattox, 25, first; Pamplin and Stonewall each, 15 points, second. Public speaking, first, Miss Onormoreer Wright, Appomattox; second, Estern Harvey, Oakville, recitation, first, Miss Sarah Bates, Spout Springs; second, Mackie Langhorn, Stonewall.

Debate, "Resolved that all schools in Virginia should be run on a 12 months plan," was won by the affirmative with Miss Virginia Trammell, of Pamplin, first, place, and Miss Lucy LeGrand, of Appomattox, second place.

The high schools which participated were Pamplin, Stonewall, and Appomattox and the graded and junior high schools from Spout Spring, Liberty Chapel, Vera and Oakville.

Mrs. R. B. Hudgins, who has been in Farmville for some time under specialist's treatment, is improving.

The ladies of the Parsonage and Missionary Societies of Memorial church were entertained by Mrs. J. E. Sears yesterday.

Liberty Church

Rev. W. M. Thompson left on Monday for Louisville, Ky., to attend the meetings of the Southern Baptist Convention. He will return here about May 12th. During his absence, there will be no Sunday preaching services in Liberty Church. The Prayer Meeting, Sunday School, and B. Y. P. U. will meet as usual.

Mother's Day will be observed in the Sunday School next Sunday with appropriate exercises and a special offering will be taken for the charity fund of the Baptist Hospital in Lynchburg.

Don Moses will have charge of the Prayer Meeting, May 5th, at 8 p. m., and A. R. Harwood will have charge May 12th.

It is expected that Dr. John Low, a world famous missionary will speak at Liberty Church, morning and afternoon, May 15. Delegates from all Baptist churches in the county are expected to attend these two meetings which will be held under the auspices of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Appomattox Baptist Association. In the evening of that day, the pastor will probably bring in a report of the convention which is expected to be one of the greatest in the history of the denomination.
